

Lewis Charles Securities go live on Investmaster Platform

London, 30 September 2008. Lewis Charles Securities, an established and quickly growing player in London's financial markets, has today gone live on Investmaster's Invantage solution.

Lewis Charles was established in 2000 and initially opted for an outsourced technology and service partner. Following its continued growth and diversification in offerings it decided in May this year to bring its technology in-house and chose Investmaster as its partner. Having decided to purchase the InVantage solution Investmaster, and Lewis Charles, have successfully delivered an operationally live solution within 5 months.

Lewis Charles' selection of InVantage, after researching potential partners, was based upon: the completeness of the solution; the focus and experience of Investmaster in this market and the modular nature of InVantage that facilitates its easy adoption whilst minimizing financial outlay.

InVantage is a highly scalable complete solution that is providing Lewis Charles with: Portfolio Management, pre-trade compliance checking, trade management, Settlement and CFD processing along with a Client Portal for online client reporting.
